Indigenous Artisan & Visitor Village

Monday, September 21, 2026

Aanii, Boozhoo, Dear Members,

Sheguiandah First Nation Chief and Council are pleased to share our community is purchasing the Ten-Mile Point property. This is an amazing opportunity for us to build capacity and economic growth together for present and future generations.

With thoughtful, community-led planning, Ten-Mile Point can become a welcoming place where visitors gather and for our people to share knowledge, celebrate identity and strengthen relationships across generations. The site will reaffirm Sheguiandah's historical connection, as we share our culture and heritage while respecting community values through our teachings, stories, designs and knowledge.

We will be following up with updates and share engagement opportunities, timelines, artisan participation, employment and information. The business model will be defined through community engagement input, cultural guidance, assessment work and responsible financial planning.

Miigwetch,

Chief Pearl Waindubence

Chief and Council
